BENNETT CHALLENGES CRITICS ON STATE OF BC'S FINANCES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett Friday challenged Liberal Leader Ray Perrault and Vancouver's two daily newspapers to bring in a chartered accountant from anywhere in North America to check the provincial government's financial statements.

The premier said statements made recently about B.C.'s financial status by Mr. Perrault, the Sun and the Province are completely false.

Mr. Bennett said the Queen's Printer will have the financial statements ready about July 20. He said they will show that the province had a surplus on capital and current accounts of more than $10,000,000 for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1962.

Spokane Ex-Sailor Held In Pistol Slaying Drama

SPOKANE (AP) — A charge of first degree murder was filed Friday against an ex-sailor in the pistol slaying of a Spokane public relations man.

Max E. Markham, 20, Spokane, was accused of slaying W. Gordon Fowle, 48, late Thursday night in front of a TV station here where his daughter was a receptionist.

Officers said Nancy Fowle, 20, was dragged screaming to Markham's car after her father was shot down. She was then hobbled by leg irons and forced into the car trunk.

Officers captured Markham without trouble after they found him and the girl east of here near the Washington-Idaho border.

Chief Clifford Payne said the youth's car contained a sub-machine gun, carbine, 45 pistol and knife. All the guns were ready to fire, Payne said.

Friends and relatives said Fowle was very firm in discouraging the youth's attention to his daughter.

Markham was charged with assault last fall after he climbed into the girl's bedroom and struck her. He received a suspended sentence on condition he leave the girl and her family alone.

U.S. Captain, 23 Vietnamese Die As Reds Ambush Convoy

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army captain and at least 23 Vietnamese soldiers were killed today when a government convoy was ambushed by Communist Viet Cong forces 40 miles north of Saigon.

The guerrillas fled after the attack carried out in battalion strength.

Government paratroopers were dropped at the site an hour after the ambush to aid a relief battalion that arrived by road.

Besides the dead, 20 Vietnamese troops were wounded and four are missing. The bloody gunfight lasted only a few minutes before government soldiers were overwhelmed.

A jeep was destroyed and two trucks heavily damaged. There was no indication of Communist casualties.

100 Arrests In N. Syria

LONDON (Reuters) — Cairo radio claimed today that about 100 persons have been arrested in Aleppo, northern Syria, following clashes Friday in which police fired at demonstrators.

The radio said the number killed and wounded was not yet known. It claimed that the "glorious demonstration" began after Friday prayers.

Bid To Smuggle E. German Ends In Jail For US Youth

EAST BERLIN (Reuters) — An East Berlin court today sentenced 19-year-old American student Robert Mann to one year and nine months hard labor on a charge of trying to smuggle an East German to the West.

This was nine months less than the East German state prosecutor had demanded for Mann, of Los Angeles, last Wednesday. The time he has spent in jail since his arrest Jan. 22 will be deducted from his sentence.

Mann's father, Charles Mann, a sports instructor at Los Angeles Valley Junior College, was in court to hear his son's sentence.

Mann was seized by the Communists in January while on a vacation here after completing his sophomore year at an affiliated Stanford University campus near Stuttgart, West Germany.

MOSCOW MEETING

Non-Reds Call for Steps To Limited Disarmament

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A call for limited steps toward disarmament with "limited measures of inspection" was issued here today by a group of non-Communist nuclear disarmers attending the Communist-backed World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace.

A single Moscow policeman stood by without interfering — except to show one of the "simple citizens" where to park the two banners he had seized from the two demonstrators.

The banners protested against both American and Soviet nuclear tests.

Today's minority statement, which its sponsors said was expected to be signed by about 100 of the conference's 2,000 delegates, said "such limited steps as a test ban or the declaration of demilitarized zones would reduce distrust, provided that they are coupled with limited measures of inspection."

"This would demonstrate the possibility of actual disarmament. The risk to either power bloc of arms or tests escaping detection in such a framework, or of spying purposes, are very small, whereas the risks for all mankind if there is no progress toward disarmament verge on the infinite."

Among its signatories were leftist journalist Kinsley Martin, on behalf of the 12 official observers from Britain's Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament, and Brock Chisholm, Canadian former director of the World Health Organization, in the name of Canada's CND.

New Brazilian Cabinet Starts To Restore Stability

BRASILIA (Reuters) — A new prime minister and cabinet today set to work to restore a measure of political and economic stability to crisis-ridden Brazil.

The Brazilian Chamber of Deputies Friday night voted 139 to 63 in favor of the cabinet nominated by Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha to give the country its first effective administration in 17 days.

Party leaders had a number of reservations about the ministers nominated by Brochado da Rocha, but said the public's patience already had been sorely tried by two previous unsuccessful attempts to form a new administration.

Several deputies accused their colleagues of being ready to vote in favor of anything in order to be able to get back to their home districts in order to begin campaigning for the national election in October.

Police Suspect 'Sons' But No Proof Found Yet

AGASSIZ (CP) — More police protection has been demanded for this Fraser Valley farming district as a result of fire bomb raids at three buildings Friday.

Low Davis, acting reeve of the municipality of Kent, said there are only two RCMP officers on duty at Agassiz, about 75 miles east of Vancouver, and at nearby Harrison Hot Springs.

He said there will likely be more terrorism if the RCMP detachments are not reinforced.

FREEDOMITES BLAMED

Police believe Sons of Freedom Doukhobor arsonists burned down a $15,000 sawmill, damaged a barn and tried to set fire to a silo.

The burnings took place in the vicinity of a new special penitentiary for Freedomites convicted of widespread arson bombings in the British Columbia Kootenays.

Freedomite prisoners are to be transferred shortly from Oakalla prison farm to the new jail.

Police have no proof of arson at the mill yet but are convinced the fire was deliberately set because it spread so quickly — as if fed by oil or gas.

US Hints At H-Ban Concession

GENEVA (Reuters) — The United States' chief disarmament negotiator hinted guardedly today at the possibility of a nuclear test ban pact without control posts in the Soviet Union.

Arthur H. Dean, chief U.S. delegate to the 17-nation disarmament conference here, dropped the hint on arrival here from Paris. The conference resumes on Monday after a month's recess.

Dean told airport reporters that the prospects for an accord would depend on the Soviet attitude toward on-site inspections. "It does look more hopeful," he added.

He was then asked whether the West would be able to drop its insistence on control posts on Soviet territory.

He replied: "It would be preferable to have control in the Soviet Union, but if they won't agree, we would work out a system, but it would not be as good. 'We would have a far better system if we had control posts. But if we could get other people to co-operate . . . perhaps we could do without them. But this is not for sure.'"

Argentine Election Set

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters) — National elections will be held in Argentina in the middle of next year, probably in May or June, the government announced Friday night.

A statement issued after a meeting of the cabinet said proportional representation will be introduced in place of the present system providing for an absolute majority for the winning party.

Details will be issued shortly along with a "political parties charter" to be in force before the elections, the statement said.

US Doctor Storm Centre In Sask. Medicare Row

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan government and the College of Physicians and Surgeons traded charges Friday. A United States doctor was the centre of much of the storm.

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said organized medicine in the province is using "fear and threats of discomfort and illness to their patients" in the medical care insurance dispute.

In a later statement, the premier said the college had been "badgering" Dr. Gerhardt Beck, who flew home to Jacksonville, Fla., Friday after he said he had been threatened with arrest for practising in the province without a licence.

A college council member said the CCF government's announcement Thursday of a one-man royal commission to investigate complaints against doctors recruited to provide service was an implied slur on the integrity of college registrar Dr. G. W. Peacock.

Further UK Shakeup Seen

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan was understood today to be planning further shifts and replacements in his government to complete a shakeup begun with a drastic cabinet shuffle Friday night.

The new changes will affect junior ministers, informed sources said, and a number of them may be asked to resign by the middle of next week. Junior ministers do not form part of the cabinet.

Winnie Beats Bronchitis

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill passed a comfortable night and newspapers bannered Britain's cabinet shakeup were delivered to his room today, hospital sources said.

A hospital spokesman said earlier that Churchill was improved in his struggle for recovery from a fractured left thigh, but warned he "is by no means out of the woods."

Doctors indicated the 87-year-old wartime prime minister had beaten the bronchial infection that threatened his recovery. They said they plan no more bulletins on his condition until Monday, "if all goes well."

Raging S. Dakota Floods Force Hundreds to Flee

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — A flood sweeping down from the Black Hills swamped Rapid City Friday night and forced an estimated 1,500 persons from their homes for a time.

Rains had eased and floodwaters receded in many parts of the city of 45,000 this morning, but some police authorities said damage would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Most of the persons who left their homes stayed with friends or in hotels and motels. A city auditorium was turned into a shelter but only about 50 persons stayed there.

National guardsmen were called out Friday night and helped in many rescues with amphibious vehicles.

May William Raff proclaimed an emergency in the city.

"There is just no place for the water to go," he said. "We have had as much rain here in the past two months as we probably had in the last five years and the ground is saturated."

Creeks in the hills had been running full before the latest heavy rains, estimated at around five inches in 24 hours by some sources.

Chief damage came from Rapid Creek, originating in the hills to the west and running eastward through the city.

More scattered showers were forecast for western South Dakota today but no additional heavy rains.

The United States exploded a hydrogen bomb at an altitude of 30,000 feet Tuesday, unleashing a flash that lit up night skies from Hawaii to New Zealand.

"Crazy white man," yelled a native at Samoa, 2,000 miles away as he and his neighbors dashed for shelter, fearing the skies were about to fall.

At Auckland, New Zealand, 3,000 miles from Johnston Island, the blast created an artificial aurora and radio communications across the Pacific were temporarily disrupted.

Scientists said the effects of the explosions—the biggest H-bomb test conducted by the U.S.—on the Van Allen Radiation Belt, considered a hazard to space flight, would not be known for two weeks.

KHRUSHCHEV CRITICIZES

Delegates from 100 countries, including Canada, were holding a world peace congress in Moscow and Soviet Premier Khrushchev used that forum to denounce the U.S. action, saying it imperilled health.

The U.S. termed Khrushchev's criticism hypocritical, noting that Russia broke a test-ban moratorium last fall by conducting atmospheric H-bomb tests.

FIGHT CONTINUES

An estimated 4,000 persons from many parts of Saskatchewan held a rally in front of the legislative buildings in Regina Wednesday to protest the CCF government's medical care plan instituted July 1.

The good-humored crowd listened to speeches for two hours and a 12-man delegation of the Keep-Our-Doctors Committee met for 10 minutes with Premier Woodrow Lloyd and his cabinet—but there was no sign of a break in the deadlock between government and doctors.

US Gov't Moves To Aid Farmers Hit By Drought

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal government has moved to aid Pennsylvania farmers caught in the grips of a prolonged drought that has New York State also appealing for federal aid.

The drought has killed off many crops throughout the northeastern part of the United States and farmers say that rainfall now wouldn't help salvage crops already damaged.

The federal government Friday granted federal drought program benefits to farmers in 22 counties of Pennsylvania.

Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York has asked for federal aid for 10 drought-plagued counties in upstate sections of his state. At least eight other New York counties are expected to appeal for disaster area status.

In New Jersey, Governor Richard J. Hughes withheld a disaster area proclamation, saying drought conditions there had not yet reached emergency proportions.

Farmers approved for federal aid under the drought disaster program are permitted to graze livestock and cut hay on cropland set aside for the soil bank.

French Come Under Fire For Jumping Telstar Gun

By KENNEDY WELLS

LONDON (Reuters)—France Thursday came under fire for allegedly jumping the gun on transatlantic television.

The storm developed over an eight-minute French broadcast bounced off the Telstar satellite early today in the first Europe-to-America television transmission.

Both the British and the 16-nation Eurovision organization protested that the French broadcast violated an agreement for joint European transmission for the broadcast.

Parties to the agreement were named as the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, the United States Information Agency, the French post office, the British general post office, the American television networks and the European Broadcasting Union.

600 MILES IN SPACE

The British claimed the French beamed a "program" of the satellite 600 miles out in space instead of just the planned test shots.

But a few hours later, as Telstar made its 16th orbit, the British recouped by sending the first real "live" east-to-west transmission flashing through space to the United States.

Co-Pilot Dies At Controls

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—The co-pilot of a Constellation airliner, due to pick up 118 persons, collapsed and died at the controls today seconds after setting the four-engine aircraft down on Prestwick Airport runway.

The co-pilot, Capt. Russell J. Rodriguez, 39, a veteran of the RCAF and a former pilot for British Overseas Airways Corporation, was described as a U.S. citizen.

The pilot immediately took over and succeeded in bringing the plane to a halt. It was undamaged.

The Constellation, owned by the U.S. Flying Tiger Airline, had just completed a flight from New York to pick up 118 members of a Scottish sports club for a chartered trip to the United States. It carried a crew of six but no passengers.

A doctor pronounced the co-pilot dead, apparently of a heart attack.

Yes, Teachers Are Still In Demand!

The increasing number of young British Columbians looking for a sound education will continue to tax our best teaching resources to the utmost.

There will always be a demand for capable teachers in both elementary and secondary schools. However, at the moment the demand is greatest at the secondary school level particularly in Home Economics, girls' Physical Education, Commercial subjects, Counselling, French, English and Music, as well as in other areas.

If you are a qualified teacher not at present actively teaching, I earnestly suggest you apply for one of the positions being advertised in the classified columns of the metropolitan daily newspapers.

If you are planning a career, remember that education needs the services of alert, intelligent, professionally minded young people. You will do well to consider the teacher education programme available either at the University of British Columbia or at Victoria College.

What Price Goodness?

Matthew 5:6. "Blessed are they that do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled."
This text is an offence to many people today. It suggests that goodness is only for those persons who are willing enough to go to a lot of trouble to get it.
Today we are told in many ways that all we have to do is put down a part of the price, or not to worry at all about the price, but just take the commodity now and pay later.
Perhaps this is just what many of us are doing today—putting little or nothing down on certain values, and really paying for it later.
This text suggests that a man can be happy only if he longs for goodness with the hunger of a man starving for food, and of a man who will die unless he has a drink. In the ancient world such was the condition. There was just enough food to sustain life for most people, and just enough water available to satisfy thirst, and no margin for fooling around with either. How unlike today that condition is.
Perhaps we today have so much of so many things, that we can pick and choose without limit the things that delight us materially and spiritually. This privilege is good and wonderful, but I believe it places on all of us a much greater weight of responsibility.

Now in the midst of excessive plenty — already planned carefully and well, packaged for our delight, and on the easiest possible terms, we can more easily fall into the pit of being a people who never feel the pangs of hungering for local and world justice, and thirsting for a solution.
Most people have a desire for goodness, but too often that desire is wishful and nebulous rather than sharp and intense; and when the moment of decision comes, they are not prepared to make the effort, the sacrifice which real goodness demands.
R. S. Stevenson said that most people suffer from "the malady of not wanting." Obviously it would make the greatest difference in the world if we literally desired goodness more than anything else in the world.—
Rev. A. H. Mundy, Rutland.

Can We Keep Paying?

How much more government do Canadians want? How much more can they take? How much more will they pay for?
These pertinent questions were asked recently by F. D. Mathers, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.
Mr. Mathers, after emphasizing that the rate of government growth has far outrun that of the nation, continued:
"We are often told that this expanding government role properly reflects the wishes of the people and is entirely consistent with the development of the modern state. Those who argue this way are convinced that "security" is of much greater importance to twentieth century man than his individual liberty and that he will willingly sacrifice much of the latter if only government will assure the former. As if it could!
"It cannot be said too often—and this is a good time to keep it in mind—that governments have no money of their own and that all the supposed benefits and handouts given to the people must be paid for by these same people.
"If there are any here who doubt this, let me remind them that the level of taxation in Canada today is such that nearly one dollar out of every three goes in taxes to the three levels of government — federal, provincial and municipal. Ottawa alone must nowadays collect well over $35 million every week in taxes merely to cover its social security and welfare spending.

"Remember this when you hear sweeping promises to increase social spending in one way or another. For it is you, and those of your generation, who will do the paying. And it is as sure as can be that what will be taken from you will far exceed what you will get back.
"Over and above this there is the much larger question of what becomes of the individual if little by little, bit by bit, he transfers more and more of his personal responsibilities to government."
Mr. Mathers illustrated his final point with the following verse:
The government, it's probably true
Will take care of me and take care of you.
Take care of our birth, take care of our death,
Take care of our first and final breath.
Take care of our marriage, take care of our rent,
But—who will take care of the government?

New Galbraith

Kenneth Galbraith, the Canadian-born economist who moved to the U.S. and made quite a name for himself as a witty critic of what he defined as "the affluent society" seems to be changing his mind somewhat about the shortcomings of private enterprise, and particularly about the role of business.
Mr. Galbraith is in India now, as American Ambassador, and has included in a new book several lectures delivered to Indian university audiences. In these chapters of Economic Development in Perspective, he has moved a long way from his earlier view that business is a negative factor in societies and that it needs to be kept under government controls. To be an effective instrument of production, he tells the Indian students, the corporation must be permitted to grow "under conditions of liberty," for "to submit the behavior of one individual to the detailed surveillance of another is to ensure debasement and inferior performance. . . . As with the individual personality, so with the corporate personality."

Apparently Mr. Galbraith's observations of under-developed India have convinced him that business is more responsible, and government less responsible, for economic growth than he had previously thought.

Peace And Honor Finally For Once Banned Author

LONDON (CP) — Novelist James Joyce has at last obtained peace with honor from his native Dublin, a city that burned his first book and once banned his masterpiece.

A two-week Joyce festival, organized by the Dublin literary community and guided by Ireland's tourist industry, attracted thousands of admirers in June.

The festival marked the 40th anniversary of the date when Joyce's most famous work, Ulysses, was first published for a select and puzzled audience in Paris.

The novel is the detailed record of the wandering through Dublin of Leopold Bloom, an advertising salesman, on June 16, 1904. The festival incorporated the 58th anniversary of the date, known as "Bloomsday" to Joyce devotees.

Ireland in general and the Roman Catholic Church in particular, condemned much of Joyce's writing as obscene and anti-religious. Ulysses is no longer banned but few Dublin bookstores put it on open display.

However visitors now can buy maps or join conducted tours to follow Bloom's footsteps through the city streets. Many of the buildings Joyce described are still standing.

JOYCE MUSEUM
These include the seaside Martello Tower where the writer once lived. The tower has been turned into a Joyce museum.

The tower contains many of Joyce's personal belongings as well as a death mask made in 1941 in Zurich where the author died after nearly 30 years of self-exile from the Ireland he both loved and bitterly resented.

It is planned to have a complete reference library of Joyce's writings and additional Joycean material on film and gramophone records.

Ulysses is a tragicomic odyssey made by Bloom through lanes, pubs, cemeteries and brothels in search of a son to replace the child he had lost. Bloom's wife Molly is considered one of the most vivid female characters ever created in English.

An aged female fan remembers Joyce as a myopic, tactless and dedicated man.

"He lived entirely for his work," she said. "Even when he went on holidays it was to a place where he could get material for his writings. His chief interest was Ireland and the Irish."

OTTAWA REPORT

Devaluation A Little Late

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

After the end of World War II, we gradually built up a pattern of excessive spending on U.S. manufactured goods and on Florida holidays. We began to import more than we exported, and we began to spend more on travel in other countries than foreigners spent in Canada.

Normally, the international exchange value of the currency of such a country will fall. This corrective action discourages imports by making them more costly, and encourages foreigners to buy the products and tourism of such a country because they are cheapened.

But this did not happen in our case; no such corrective devaluation of our dollar took place to help us right our adverse international trade position. This was because foreign capital was pouring into Canada, creating an international demand for our dollar, and forcing its exchange value up to a premium.

This premium not merely negated the normal corrective action; it actually reversed that influence, so that foreign goods and foreign travel became attractively cheaper to us, and to the whole world, than Canadian goods and Canadian tourism.

PREMIUM CAUSED UNEMPLOYMENT

Thus the premium on our dollar actually exported employment from Canada to other countries, and threw our workers out of jobs.

When the government wisely adopted the policy of eliminating the premium on our dollar last summer, it was widely applauded by Canadian businessmen and by Liberal leader Lester Pearson and other opposition politicians. At the same time, businessmen in U.S.A. expressed their worry, because such action would encourage Canadians to "buy Canadian."

The government succeeded in bringing the international exchange value of our dollar down from $1.05 in U.S. currency to 85 cents.

This action would encourage a correction of our deficit in international trade and tourism and other "invisible" imports. But then two other factors came into play. First the 10 year inflow of foreign capital, chiefly from U.S.A., began to dry up. The European Common Market had been formed and was beginning to prosper. That

Glorious 12th Peaceful Now

The Twelfth of July has come and gone, with hardly a comment in the press or on the air, and few other are who can tell you the significance of that date if you should ask them. 'Twas not ever thus! Time was when the "Glorious 12th" saw great celebrations, in Kelowna, and in most of English speaking Canada. No battle in Canadian history ever was celebrated like the "Battle of the Boyne," fought in far off Ireland in the year 1690!

Fifty years ago this city was the scene of a celebration of the 50th Jubilee of the Orange Order in British Columbia. Orange lodges from up and down the valley converged on this city. The "Aberdeen" arrived at 11 a.m. from the north, with 415 passengers, while others came on the "Okanagan" from the south, and still more by road from other points, bringing along their wives and families too, of course.

Local Orangemen had suitably decorated the town, three arches being erected, covered with evergreens and gay with flags and Orange colors. One arch spanned the roadway at the exit from the CPR wharf, a second was set at the junction of Bernard and Water, and a third was at the Lawrence Ave. entrance to the Park. A number of store windows were decorated.

At 1:15 p.m., a procession, marshalled by Alderman R. A. Copeland, mounted on a white "charger" and wearing a sword, formed up and marched in two from the Opera House, up Bernard Ave., to inspiring music by the Armstrong Infantry and Vernon Fire Brigade bands. The various lodges carried banners, and were headed by their respective Masters, each with a drawn sword. After going a number of blocks the parade counter-marched back to the Park for the speeches, at the Aquatic grandstand.

County Master Glover, of Vernon, was in charge there and called first upon Alderman D. W. Sutherland, representing the city of Kelowna. In his remarks Mr. Sutherland expressed the regret of Mayor J. W. Jones on his unavoidable absence at the coast, and welcomed the Orange organizations to the city, stating that the council had declared the day a holiday in their honor. He praised the Orange Society in its stand for "Liberty and Freedom." He said that most of objectives were now accomplished, but the Order could remain a factor for good in the country.

The first speaker was "Brother Michael" of Peachland, who, the "Courier" said, "was a veteran, well advanced in years, but spoke with the fiery enthusiasm of young blood." He read a resolution voicing opposition to "Home Rule" for Ireland. He declared that "Never since the glorious victory of the Boyne was liberty in such danger!" He claimed that the National party in Ireland was the tool of the Priesthood. Concluding a fighting speech he quoted the words of Kipling's poem to "The Men of Ulster," and took his seat amid loud applause. Rev. J. D. Welsh of Kelowna spoke next. He admitted he was not a member, but commended many of the principles of the order, and the precepts laid down in the constitution, which he hoped the members present would practice themselves.

The next speaker was Thomas Cunningham, a fruit inspector from Vancouver, who was introduced as the 2nd Grand Master to hold office after founding of the Orange order in B.C. He took strong exception to Ald. Sutherland's remarks, in which he had said the objects of the Order were achieved. "The British Empire, for which our forefathers shed their blood, was never in greater danger," he declared. "The British people had been united when they fought Napoleon, but not now! Why? Because 50 years ago only 52 monasteries and nunneries in England, and now there were 1,150!"

The recent attempt to make Canada an adjunct of the U.S. (through reciprocity) was a "Papal plot!" He knew who had defeated it. "It was the Orangemen!" He was not against the rank and file of Catholics he said, it was just the hierarchy that he opposed. He had been called into the valley to stamp out fire blight, and with success (!), he was glad to say, but "there was a greater danger to be fought, the blight of Romanism. God was on the side of the Orangemen," he said, "because they stood for truth and right." Concluding his oratory, he declared "Ulster will never surrender," and then said he was proud that "The blood of a Protestant boy of Derry flowed in his veins, and that was the bluest blood there was," and sat down to thunderous applause.

Rev. J. A. Davidson then spoke and said there was a greater peril than "Romanism." It was "Americanism," with its open Sundays, free divorce courts and "mad race for wealth." Final speaker was a Mr. Wein of Portleton, who took issue with Rev. Davidson, who had said that "the day of the Inquisition was past." He quoted an alleged statement made not many years before, by the then head of the Church of Rome, that if opportunity occurred the "rack" and the "thumbscrew" would again return! However, he too, was not against Catholics as a whole, but the "machinations of the Jesuits!"

This concluded the speech-making, and the Orangemen, having awakened the Okanagan once more to the perils that could befall the nation, adjourned to the sports ground for baseball, lacrosse and football games, but these were marred somewhat by a squall that blew up right after the speeches, bringing drizzling rain, and ending up later in a downpour. The wind also blew down the decorated arch at the park gate. Enderby trounced Kelowna 10-1 in baseball, Kelowna did the same to Vernon 12 to 1 in lacrosse, while Vernon came back to slosh through to an 8-0 win over Kelowna at football. It was a day of overtones.

How times have changed! Today, Catholics and Protestants get along remarkably well together, in an Okanagan that racially and in religious faiths, has become increasingly mixed. Home rule has come to stay in "Eire," but without the Ulstermen. Staunch Orangemen of yesteryear, must have turned over in their graves at some recent events—the United States electing a Roman Catholic president, and, worst of all, the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Queen of Great Britain holding confabs with the Pope, in Rome!

Well, we may have lost some worthwhile things in the advance from those early days to the present, but we have gained in tolerance. But let us not get too smug about it, we still have room for improvement!

Farm Help Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Average annual wages, including board, for male farm help rose to $1,390 at May 15 from $1,340 a year earlier, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. Without board, the yearly average was $1,180, compared with $1,170 a year ago. In Eastern Canada the average, with board, was $1,315 compared with $1,290 last year, while in Western Canada it was $1,485 compared with $1,405.

Parole Board Member Recommends More Discipline For Children

ST. ANDREWS, N.B. (CP)—Adopting parents should tell children that they are adopted just as soon as the children are old enough to understand, Mary Louise Lynch of Ottawa and Saint John, N.B., a member of the National Parole Board, said Wednesday.

If the child doesn't learn until late adolescence that he is adopted he might acquire a feeling of rejection which could lead to criminal hostility.

"Armed robbers are in this category," she said.

Miss Lynch used this as one example of some of the factors that make a criminal. She told delegates at the 18th biennial convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs that children who are in a great number of foster homes and those from broken homes were damaged by the experience.

She said children needed discipline as well as love. She noted the many elective courses open to high school students. "In my day we had to learn Latin whether we liked it or not. We just had to learn to buckle down."

She outlined the work of the parole board to the 450 delegates attending the five day convention which ends Friday. Miss Lynch said prisoners had to apply for parole and give a reason for their requests. Probably the most honest was the man who wrote to say "I want to be paroled because I don't like it here."

At an earlier session Wednesday, Elsie Gregory MacGill of Toronto, an aeronautical engineer, was elected president of the 7,000 - member federation. Nazla Dane of Toronto was elected first vice-president and the three other vice-presidents elected were Louis Card, Ne-pawa, Man.; Eleanor Morley, Vancouver and Helen Yeo, Charlottetown. Trece Kyle of Toronto was elected honorary secretary-treasurer.

During a seminar on the role of women in government, delegates agreed that women should be more active in politics.

In group discussion some delegates said women were reluctant to enter party politics because they were more sensitive than men to criticism.

In general senses delegates agreed that one of the aims of the federation should be to encourage women to participate in all levels of government.

An Engagement Of Interest Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Goodman of Kelowna announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Barbara Ann to Mr. James Richard Cruikshank, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. H. Cruikshank of West Vancouver. The wedding will take place in Vancouver on August 17.

East Kelowna

Holidaying in the district are Mr. and Mrs. W. Carswell with their daughter Bernice from Hanley, Saskatchewan.

Spending the past weekend at the home of Mrs. W. Hince was Miss C. Fairbank of Kelowna.

Mrs. F. C. Bell of West Vancouver is holidaying at the home of her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Graham.

Residents of East Kelowna heard of the death of Mr. Ernest E. Hewlett in Victoria with deep regret. Mr. and Mrs. Hewlett and family were former residents of South Kelowna, where Mr. Hewlett operated an orchard.

Overweight Lost Her Teeth But Not Her Sweet Tooth

"Is there anything to kill my sweet tooth?" I do without bread and potatoes but I crave sweets. I lost my teeth but not my sweet tooth!" an overweight lamented ruefully.

Eating sweets is largely habit, perpetuated by the eating of sweets. This dietitian wonders seriously if dieters didn't get clear off the track by shunning potatoes and bread in order to indulge in sweets. This substitution may well be the root of our avoidipous.

We need to look again at the way the body releases the fuel from starch as compared to the quicker burning sugars and as-sorted sweets. Starch, being a more complex carbohydrate, must be broken down further, thereby releasing fuel at a more deliberate rate. This staves off hunger for hours longer than a meal which lights slow-burning starches but goes on sweets.

Since sweets furnish quickly absorbable sugar which burns quickly, you are soon hungry again.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception was beautifully decorated with tulips and lily of the valley for the wedding of Betty Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Shussel of Kelowna and David George Kozoris son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kozoris of Kelowna.

The Reverend R. D. Anderson performed the double-ring ceremony and was celebrant for the Nuptial Mass. The soloist Mr. R. Martin sang "Prayer for a Perfect Life" and "On This Day" accompanied by Miss Melody Hewer.

Given in marriage by her father the pretty bride wore a full length gown of silk organza over taffeta. Roses and leaves of matching fabric fell from the back waistline adding interest to the very full skirt which was also enhanced with appliques of lace encrusted with seed pearls and sequins at the sides. The fitted bodice was fashioned of lace with a sabrina neckline and lily point sleeves, and her only jewellery was a single strand of pearls which were a gift from the groom. Her chapel length veil of misty tulle was held by a tiara of intertwined strands of sequins and pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids centred with one mauve flower.

Miss Sharon Morrison of Vancouver was the maid of honor for her cousin and Miss Dianne Morrison and Miss Gloria Favell both cousins of the bride were bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in short sheath dresses of aqua peau de sole featuring bouffant overskirts of lace in a matching shade. Their head-dresses were bows and they carried cascading bouquets of tiny white and shaded chrysanthemums. To complete their costumes, they wore the pearl necklaces and earrings which were a gift of the bride.

The tiny flower girl, Colleen Ackerman, who is also a cousin of the bride, was charming in a short ruffled dress of soft yellow organza. A tiny gold cross on a slender chain, a gift from the bride, encircled her neck and she wore a bandeau of spring flowers in her hair, and carried a basket of white and tinted baby chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Donald Schwann of Louis Creek, and the ushers were Mr. Sidney Shussel, brother of the bride, and Mr. Gib Loseth, both of Kelowna.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID GEORGE KOZORIS

For the reception at the East Kelowna Community Hall the bride's mother chose a smart blue sheath of heavy lace over taffeta, with a white picture hat and white accessories. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake which was baked by her mother and topped by two tiny white doves carrying wedding bands.

Master of ceremonies was Mr. Jack Morrison, a friend of the bride's family, and Mr. R. G. Morrison, an uncle of the bride, proposed the toast in her honor. The best man then proposed the toast to the bridesmaids and read telegrams of good wishes from Vancouver and Saskatchewan.

Out of town guests attended the wedding from Vernon, Penticton, Kamloops, North Kamloops, Louis Creek, Barriere, Carleton Place, Winfield, Britannia Beach, Vancouver and Maclellan, Sask., and following the sit-down supper the evening was concluded with dancing.

When claving for the honeymoon in California the bride wore a beige brocade dress with prior thought to how you plan to cope with a sweet temptation. One of the ways in which we show strength of will is in a willingness to make advanced decisions. First you reason through a situation and mentally face the problem. Using fore-thought, picture yourself acting in a certain way. Having decided, you can then carry this mind-set with you. If you are whole-hearted in your desire to break the sweets habit, this mind-set will work with wondrous potency.

ANN LANDERS

Try Locking The Door!

Dear Ann Landers: Our apartment is right next to the laundry room. There is a rule that no tenant may wash after 9:00 p.m. of before 8 a.m. A sign to this effect is posted in the hall, but apparently the people in the building can't read.

I am sick and tired of being blasted out of bed at 6 in the morning by the sounds of washing machines and dryers. As if this isn't bad enough, some of the tenants who work during the day do their laundry at midnight. One woman likes to wash at 2 a.m. She has insomnia and can't sleep so she doesn't want anyone else to sleep either.

I've complained to the landlord a dozen times but he doesn't live in the building. He says he can't hire a policeman to watch the laundry room. Don't tell me to move. I like my apartment and it's ideally located for my family. Please tell me what to do — OUT OF STARCH

Dear Out of Starch: One of the oldest inventions known to civilized man is the lock and key. I suggest you look into it. Tell your landlord you will be happy to lock up the laundry room at 9:00 p.m. and unlock it at 8:00 a.m. Since it is next to your apartment, this should be a simple matter.

When you are away on vacation or out for the evening you could leave the room open and let the people wash at whatever crazy hours suits them.

Dear Ann: I'm married and have four children. My problem is my husband. I've tried everything I know of to please him but he's never satisfied.

He wants me to play the violin, the flute, sing in the church choir, teach Bible school, keep the house spotless, wash, iron and cook, take care of the lawn, feed the cat, dog and bird, and entertain every Sunday. Last night he said I should take a full-time job because we could use the money.

I had pneumonia five months ago and never did my strength back. The doctor says I'm trying to do too much. When I ask Oswald to give me a hand he sits there and reads the paper.

Home Making Is Only One Facet Of Busy Life

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. S. K. Watson, Winnipeg, who happily combines a career of home economics with a life of home making, was elected president of the 1,000-member Canadian Home Economics Association today.

Assistant professor of home economics education at the University of Manitoba, she succeeds Gertrude Gerlach of Ottawa.

Other officers elected at the four - day biennial convention which ends Thursday are vice-president, Helen Janzen, Winnipeg; secretary, Isabel Wettlaufer, Winnipeg; and treasurer, Mary E. Macbeth, Ottawa. Provincial representatives included Ailsa McEachran, Vancouver; Evelyn Erdman, Calgary; Wanda Young, Regina; and Lorna Davis, Winnipeg. Site of the silver jubilee meeting in 1964 will be Winnipeg.

He claims it's a woman's job to take care of the home and kids and that he doesn't ask me to come down to the plant and help him with HIS work. What can I say to a man like this? — WORN OUT

Dear Worn Out: You can tell Oswald that unless he gives you a hand he may have to hire a full time housekeeper while you are in a hospital recovering from nervous exhaustion. Then he'll have to help HER with the housework, feed the cat, dog and bird, and entertain his relatives every Sunday, in addition to his full-time job.

Dear Ann Landers: Please settle an argument which has been going on for several days between my husband and me.

We had a baby last month. My husband is the father of another boy by want to know if I am related to this other child?

My brother seems to think that I am not related to the first son. I think I am, but I don't know quite how. My brother says if I am related to that other child, then my husband's ex-wife is related to OUR child.

Please settle this argument once and for all. I am sick and tired of the bickering already. — PRETZELEATER

Dear Pretzeleater: You are not related to your husband's son by his previous marriage unless you legally adopt the boy. The same goes for your husband's ex-wife and your month-old son.

Now you can all stop fighting!

MOTELMAN BIGGAR

Today's VOP Motelman With a Place in Future

Editor's Note: This is another in the series of articles on Vernon's Ordinary People which will appear on this page from time to time. You will not read biographies on the mayor, or fire chief, or other prominent citizens. But instead stories on newcomers who are making their mark in the community; people who have worked unselfishly with little or no recognition; personalities in sport and the arts; and your neighbor next door. Today, Ralph Biggar, the youngest manager of a motel in the Travelodge group and a newcomer to Vernon.

One of the brightest young men in Vernon these days has the distinction of 26 of being the youngest manager of a motel in the mammoth Travelodge chain.

Ralph Biggars, married and a father of a 2½ year old boy, was appointed head of Vernon Travelodge June 1. The group has more than 280 hostelrys throughout the United States, Canada, Australia and one motel in France.

While tender in years for a responsible job, he is not new in the business.

Born in Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, he took his formal education in Winnipeg, Kamloops then McGill in Montreal. He played for a time in a band in Los Angeles and a combo in bars in California. Soon he returned to Kamloops and started at the bottom in the hotel business as a bell boy at the Plaza Hotel. With personality and hard work he soon worked up to chief desk clerk and then moved to the bar in the same hotel.

Then the Okanagan beckoned. He came to Vernon's National Hotel as senior barman and the Silver Star Room became a haven for sportsmen and one of the most popular eateries with bar facilities in the Valley.

OPPORTUNITY TAKEN

Fifteen short months after arriving in Vernon, the opportunity to manage Travelodge unfolded, and the job was snapped up after quick counsel with his charming wife Liz whom he married in 1958.

While his first love is tourism, his second is undoubtedly that of an innkeeper.

His burning ambition is to be a second Conrad Hilton, and at the age he realized his first managerial position, it's conceivable it can be done. He's a member of the chamber of commerce and an enthusiastic swimmer and golfer, spending most nights at the course, after the motel is full of guests to be sure.

Operating a motel is very much a husband and wife job. Without one it can't be done. When Ralph is on duty, Liz has a chance to shop Vernon's stores and do general marketing . . . or have a dip in the pool. Liz takes over the desk when Ralph does odd chores around the motel, or relaxes at one of his favorite pastimes.

Once a week they manage to hit the town together and then they must hire a third person to book the guests and make sure everything is in working order.

When do they take a vacation? Who wants vacation in the Okanagan, Ralph replies . . . this is the finest place in the world!

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

COURIER CONTESTANTS in the press-radio-television miniature marathon tomorrow are not trying to back out, despite what the Vernon News, with tongue in cheek, claims.

But we do think it's very unfair that only The Courier has been assessed a $2.50 entry fee and other news media are being paid lavish sums and promises of gifts to enter.

It's quite obvious The Courier's strong team has the field scared. So scared in fact that The News' Terry Steward has been secretly practicing in the kiddies' wading pool at Polson Park, and Ian Macfarlane, refuses to allow his name to stand on anything except in the pancake eating contest tonight. (He's champion scone gobbler of all Scotland including the outer Hebrides).

THE NEW JUKE BOXES in local taverns are a problem to some.

Yesterday, a man who was not in complete control of everything, dropped 40-cents into the music box . . . pushed buttons like mad then stood back. First song to come out was Moon River. Hollered the lush . . . "hey, I wanted Matinee . . ."

JUST BEFORE THE LAST municipal elections outgoing Mayor Frank Becker said: "I'm taking a rest for a couple of years . . . I've earned it." He certainly had—but you can't keep an old war horse and top public relations man down. This week Frank accepted the job of chairman of National Forest Products Week Oct. 21-27. Welcome Back!

EVERY FRIDAY WILL be gourmet night at the Allison dining room. The new ultra modern charcoal broiler will now allow top chef Ron to demonstrate his culinary art to perfection.

THERE'S NO MORE TO SEE or behold anymore. Last seen on Barnard Avenue heading west: a petite champagne blonde woman, terrific tan, white dress, red handbag and shoes, toting a miniature poodle, white, no tan, red collar and leash and red spat . . . honest! Only a dog would wear spats in this weather.

AND KUDOS THIS WEEK to Albrecht von Gadenstedt, who pitched in and offered his luxurious Adventure Bay resort dining room to swimmers for a morning breakfast prior to the marathon tomorrow. He's already giving six steak dinners to the winners, but the breakfast almost fell flat when the original donors backed out.

WALLY BYAM HERE

Caravaners Enter City

VERNON (Staff)—More than 500 gleaming aluminum trailers began arriving here today to start the largest single tourist invasion in the history of Vernon.

Part of the Wally Byam Caravan which was organized earlier this month in Washington State and attended the Seattle World's Fair.

About 1,500 remained together for a tour of Western Canada. An advance party of about 40 trailers arrived here last night. It is expected all trailers will be in Vernon by 6 p.m. tonight. They are travelling at well-spaced intervals and it is not expected traffic will be disrupted RCMP here say.

A special village has been set up at the south end of the city on National Defence property an old Thorlakson Ranch adjoining. Their arrival coincides with Vernon tourist days which runs until July 19, highlight of which is the Kalamalka Lake marathon swim Sunday.

Before the caravan tour terminates August 20, the travellers will stop at 10 prearranged base camps in British Columbia. From these side trips and entertainment has been arranged.

LOTS OF FUN

Chamber of Commerce here has organized various types of entertainment for the trailer fans and general public most of which will be held in Polson Park during the week.

SATURDAY: A pancake feast and welcoming address from Mayor Bruce Cousins. All the pancake, syrup, sausages and coffee you can eat and drink for $1. At 6:30 p.m. the international pancake munching contest between Canada (press-radio) vs. U.S.A. (Wally Byam caravaners). Present title holders: U.S.A. This is followed by a square dance fiesta special with visiting dancers from throughout the Valley. At 10 p.m. a movie in Polson Park and at the Legion Hall the Kalamalka Lake marathon swim dance.

Adventure Bay Breakfast

SUNDAY: 6 a.m., Swimmers breakfast at Adventure Bay. 9 a.m., start of the Kalamalka Lake swim from Olympe 9:30 a.m. interdenominational church service, bandshell, Polson Park. 1:30 p.m., junior baseball in Polson Park oval, Kamloops vs. Vernon. At the same time on Kal Beach, water-bombing demonstration by Department of Forestry Avenger aircraft from Kamloops, followed by water skiing exhibitions, Red Cross life saving display, water square dancing, roller skating contest. 7 p.m., a contest in the park followed by presentation of marathon swim prizes. At dusk a movie in the park.

Monday: 6 p.m. Challenge softball game. Wally Byam vs. Vernon Allstars, and a program by Vernon Girls Trumpet Band 7:30 p.m., Bandshell, International Folk Dance festival.

Tuesday: 1 p.m. Fly-casting demonstration, kiddies pool Polson Park. 6 p.m., Challenge ball game. Vernon Military Camp vs. Wally Byam caravaners. 7:30 p.m. concert Vernon Youth Salutes Wally Byam. Dusk—movie.

Wednesday: 6 p.m. junior baseball, Polson Park oval, Kelowna vs. Vernon. 7:30 p.m. evening of music by Jamaica Calypso Band. Dancing on the green.

Thursday: 6 p.m. junior ball: Polson Park oval, Kelowna vs. Vernon. 7:30 p.m. concert "Wally Byam" entertains Vernon: dusk, movie.

Friday: the caravan begins to move out and south to Penticton where it will spend two days from there they visit Grand Forks, Nelson, Cranbrook, Banff, Calgary, Glacier National Park.

Entry For Big Swim

VERNON (Staff)—A lone Vernon entry in the 12-mile Kalamalka Lake marathon swim registered at swim headquarters last night. He is Alfred Christensen, 22-year-old native of the Okanagan.

At the same time two American swimmers have withdrawn from the race. Grace Phillips of Chicago and Lars Hansen of Santa Barbara, California indicated they could not attend. Mrs. Phillips a swimming instructor in an eastern U.S. college failed to obtain leave of absence for the Vernon swim.

Fight to Save S. Viet Nam Considered As Fouled Up

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP)—The story here—and apparently elsewhere in the U.S. army—is that the fight to save South Viet Nam from the Communists is, to put it mildly, fouled up.

Both the Pentagon and the state department have been extremely reluctant to discuss the Vietnamese operation at all.

But it can be reported that there are some extremely disturbed officers in the U.S. army, ranging from captains through at least one major-general.

Apparently it is no secret throughout the army that Maj. Gen. William D. Rosson, chief of the U.S. special forces—guerrillas—is downright angry over what he considers the misuse of his highly trained specialists in South Viet Nam.

CHAOS AT TOP

Further, among army men there are reports that Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem has kept the command structure of his government so split and confused that military operations against the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas border on the chaotic.

The intelligence system upon which counter-guerrilla operations depend for success is reported near collapse.

Finally, some officers here the U.S. military advisory group in South Viet Nam, now numbering between 4,000 and 5,000 men, have become so touchy and unwieldy that their efficiency has been impeded.

For every man actually out in the field training and advising Vietnamese troops, there are at least five in rear echelon headquarters shuffling papers of one sort or another.

BETTER BETTER

This early however somewhat startling when it is considered that the British carried out an extremely effective guerrilla counter-insurrection campaign in Malaya with a headquarters at the top of nine men and reported sub-headquarters of not more than 1,000. At one time there were 250,000 troops in the Malayan theatre. That's one at the rear to 250 men in action.

This story was pieced together in a series of interviews which began in Washington and carried through Ft. Benning, Ga., and here.

Some of the officers interviewed saw the Vietnamese operation at different levels and hence the experiences of on might vary considerably from another. All asked to remain anonymous for career reasons.

A man who talked to Rosson immediately after the general's return from an inspection trip to Viet Nam said the chief of the special forces was appalled to find his men, probably the most mature and best-trained in the army, providing basic training to Vietnamese recruits.

DEPLORES WASTE

Rosson was quoted as saying: "This is a waste of manpower. We should shift these people to working with indigenous personnel (native forces) in company and battalion-sized groups. They should give them the same training they have and then they should go into the 22 Viet Cong areas nobody has been into for 15 years."

Rosson has declined to discuss the Vietnamese situation in public, though he apparently makes no bones about his feelings in private.

Most of the ranking Vietnamese officers and non-commissioned officers were trained by the French in the type of defensive warfare which resulted in the bloody, 55-day battle at Dien Bien Phu in 1954 and the subsequent French defeat.

Rosson was angered by the Vietnamese refusal to take the offensive against the Viet Cong in any meaningful way and has complained "nobody has been able to get these people out of static defence positions."

RELIGIOUS PRESSURE

One of the returned officers interviewed said that the Viet-namese colonel of his regiment had been pressured into joining the Roman Catholic church and that other officers had undergone similar pressures. President Diem is a Catholic.

The officer quoted the colonel as saying membership in Diem's church was becoming a prerequisite to continuation in command, although many of the 15,000,000 South Vietnamese identify Catholicism with the French occupation, the officer said. Taoism is the dominant faith, but about 10 per cent of the South Vietnamese are Catholic.

Cook BETTER Electrically

Enjoy Cool Flameless Electric Cooking

Cook with flameless Electricity and have a cool kitchen. The heat stays in the insulated oven. No open flame—super speed elements are in direct contact with the cooking utensils and heat the food, not the kitchen.

Hilkiah, the high priest who discovered the Book of the Law during Josiah's temple renovation, apparently had a son named Jeremiah. When this young man was about 25, the Lord called him to be a prophet.—Jeremiah 1:1-5.

Early in his career Jeremiah delivered a famous message from the Jerusalem temple gate. He told the people not to bend themselves safe from God's wrath simply because His temple was there, and to mend their ways.—Jeremiah 7:1-7.

For some 35 years Jeremiah pleaded uselessly with his people to reform. God directed him once to illustrate His impending wrathful destruction of Jerusalem itself by breaking an earthen flask so it couldn't be mended.—Jeremiah 19:1-13.

Just before the promised destruction of the city, Jeremiah prophesied for his people a 70-year period of captivity in the land of the Babylonians who conquered them.—Jeremiah 25:9-11.

BIG BAD JOHN A RIGHT GUY

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—"Big Bad John" turned out to be an all-right guy for a Detroit surgeon.

As Dr. Thomas Baker got out of his car Wednesday on a downtown street, his wallet, containing $18,000 cash, slid unnoticed from his pocket.

A tall, husky man picked up the wallet and caught Baker two blocks away. Baker offered the man a reward but the stranger replied, "maybe you can do something for me some day."

The stranger would tell Baker only that his name was Jack, then added as he walked away, "but some of my friends call me 'Big Bad John.'"

Protestants, Catholics Almost Equal in Number

OTTAWA (CP)—Protestants 24.2 per cent to 254,366 from 204,836, and Roman Catholics are nearly equal in number in Canada, figures from last year's census indicate.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued a report today showing that Roman Catholics totalled 8,542,826 last June, an increase of 37.5 per cent from 6,069,496 in the 1951 census.

Adherents of six large Protestant denominations numbered 8,221,808, up 18.3 per cent from 6,789,377 in 1951. Canada's total population jumped 30.2 per cent in the 1951-61 period.

Not included in these totals are 239,766 Greek Orthodox and 189,653 Ukrainian (Greek) Catholics.

The bureau said the figures do not measure church membership in the strict sense of the word or indicate the degree of affiliation with any religious body.

QUERIED CAREFULLY

Census enumerators, who asked every Canadian the question "what is your religion?" were instructed to inquire more fully when such answers as "Christian", "Protestant" and "believer" were given.

The number of Canadians classified under the "other" category jumped 61.1 per cent to 767,374 from 476,460. These people belonged to small denominations or were free thinkers.

Highlights of the census report:

1. The largest denomination was Roman Catholic, representing 45.7 per cent of the population, compared with 43.3 in 1951.

2. The United Church of Canada and the Anglican Church of Canada remained the second- and third-largest denominations respectively, with 3,664,008 and 2,409,068 adherents.

3. The Pentecostal Church was the fastest-growing denomination, going to 143,877 from 95,131, a 51.2-per-cent advance.

4. The Lutheran Church posted the second-highest growth rate, boosting its total 59 per cent to 662,744 from 44,923.

5. The Jewish population rose

Nova Scotia 35.3, New Brunswick 51.9, Quebec 58.1 and Ontario 30.3. The percentage of adherents of the United Church in Manitoba was 29.3, Saskatchewan 32, Alberta 31.5 and British Columbia 31.

The United Church adherents increased 27.8 per cent to 3,664,008 from 2,867,271. They accounted for 20.1 per cent of the total Canadian population, compared with 20.5 per cent in 1951.

Anglicans grew 16.9 per cent to 2,409,068 from 2,060,720. They presented 13.2 per cent of total population, compared with 14.7 per cent 11 years ago.

Presbyterians went up by 4.7 per cent to 818,558 from 781,747. They accounted for 4.5 per cent of all Canadians, compared with 5.6 per cent in 1951.

The other two major denominations, Baptist and Mennonite, topped their totals by 14.2 and 21.1 per cent, respectively. Baptists totalled 593,553 while Mennonites numbered 152,452.

Today's report listed population by religious denominations for all provinces, counties and census divisions, as well as communities of 10,000 population and more.

More detailed classifications of religious denominations by sex, age groups and so on will be issued later, the bureau said.

Give Us

Harvest time makes a man think.

The bread God gives us has to be cut, threshed, shipped, baked, wrapped and delivered before it ever reaches our mouths. And long before, it had to be sowed in a ploughed field, cultivated, irrigated, and fretted over a thousand times.

Lots of work in it for man. No gift wrapping with a ribbon around it.

But don't think we could get along without God! Leave out His part and there would be no harvest — no point in all our work.

So wheat inspires worship! And every Sunday in Church reminds us that we never labor alone... that our labors gain fruitfulness from God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Churches Invited To Rome Event

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Roman Catholic Church has sent out invitations to non-Catholic churches and church federations to send observers to its ecumenical council starting here Oct. 11.

Protestant observers never before have been invited to a world-wide gathering of the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

A Vatican spokesman declined to say how many observers are being asked to attend or what churches had been invited. "When you invite someone to your home for dinner, you don't announce it to everyone else first," he said. "You let the guest tell about it."

Dr. Michael Ramsey, Archbishop of Canterbury and spiritual leader of the Church of England, announced last week he had assigned three observers to attend the ecumenical council sessions.

The secretariat here waited until the announcement was made in London, then confirmed the news with its own brief announcement.

Galleries watch Arnold Palmer hit an iron shot on 11th hole at Troon, Scotland, in opening round of the British Golf Championship. The Latrobe, Pa., pro, the defending champion, birdied the par 5 hole. He had a first round 1-under-par 71. Palmer won his second straight British Open championship Friday with a score of 276 for 72 holes, the lowest ever in the 102-year-old tournament.

CHILLY 12-MILE COURSE

Local Swim Star Confident Of Retaining Kal-Swim Title

By ROBIN BROWN
Courier Sports Writer

Strong favorite among the 16 entries in Sunday's second annual Kalamalka swim will be last year's winner, 19-year-old Bruno Guidi of Kelowna.

Last year the strapping 185-pounder completed the 12-mile course in six hours 30 minutes, finishing nearly an hour ahead of the second place finisher, Tom Murphy of Kootenay Bay. In fact, out of the 12 starters only four completed the long grind. For his efforts Bruno picked up the City of Vernon Trophy, $200 in cash and a week's vacation at Coldstream Resort.

Unlike last year, Bruno has done very little training for the big event, due mainly to weather conditions. For the initial event on Labor Day last September he trained nearly every day for about two months.

He has however been out in the evenings this week limbering up for the big one. Using a strong Australian Crawl he has been putting in about two miles each night.

With or without adequate training, the big fellow still figures to be a tremendous threat. Especially when we consider that he won the event last year after attending a mid-night show. This year he jokingly remarked the shows were out but that he was considering taking in a dance the night before the swim instead.

A native of sunny Italy, he came to Canada five years ago. He joined the Kelowna Rowing Club three years ago and joined the Aquatic Swimming Club the following year. He learned to swim in Italy when he was only five years old.

Although he had not done any competitive swimming until he came to Kelowna, Bruno has made quite an impression in the past three years.

Bill Wood got him started on his aquatic career soon after he joined the club. He entered competition in relay races in Vernon, Penticton and Kamloops and won the 100 metre freestyle for 16's and under in Vancouver two years ago.

His biggest trophy to date has of course been the Kalamalka Trophy but he has also won the Okanagan Lake Trophy for the past three years, the Aggregate Trophy at Kamloops Regatta in 1961 and also the Savanna Regatta Aggregate Trophy.

Bruno feels he may be handicapped this year through a lack of training. (He trained all summer for the swim last year), as the date of the event has been moved ahead this year. He thinks his main competition will come from Grace Phillips of Chicago although there are several other strong swimmers entered in the big splash.

Locally he does not feel there is very much in the way of competition, (though late entry Dennis Murdoch of Kelowna who recently won a distance race at Skaka Lake could spell trouble), except from the Kamloops contingent which includes some good sprint swimmers but not top notch distance members.

Though undecided at present, to accomplish all this however, he feels he will have to get on a swimming team with facilities for year-round training which is definitely necessary to reach the high standards required for these top-notch events.

During the winter, he keeps in shape by weight lifting and is an active member of the Kelowna Boys' Club.

Bruno, who swims without a pacer and consumes only coffee with honey and the occasional chocolate bar while swimming, says he had plenty of wind left after the big grind last year and felt he could have gone further if necessary. He says he felt a little soreness in the body muscles but that was all.

Starting time for the event Sunday is 9 a.m. at Oyama Beach and a confident, (but not overly so), Bruno Guidi will hit the Kalamalka waters in quest of his second straight title. It's a long 12 miles to Vernon.

Griffith Whips Paret Memory And Dupas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—It was up to boxer Emile Griffith to whip a man and a memory and he did it.

So today 23-year-old Emile is still the welterweight champion of the world.

The man he whipped was Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, the No. 1 contender. The decision Friday night was unanimous but Dupas was a lot tougher and more aggressive than most people expected.

The memory was Griffith's fight March 24 with Benny (Kid) Paret. The Cuban kid was battered into submission in 12 rounds and died 10 days later.

There was speculation that the sensitive, almost childlike Griffith, with his tragedy preying on his mind, might hold back his heavy punching or put on a disguised fight.

One thing was sure. The 26-year-old Dupas, known for his hit-and-run tactics, switched form and kept Griffith fully occupied for the full 15 rounds.

The crowd of 5,169 in the Las Vegas Convention centre was in an uproar of excitement for the full 45 minutes of the action.

Griffith's victory was a double. He knocked out the contender and kept his memory of Paret. Griffith fully occupied for the full 15 rounds.

AL-NL ROUNDUP

Angels Clip Yanks 10-3 AL Race Is Tightening

The American League spotlight focused today on three things.

In the main arena were the top three pennant contenders—New York's world champion Yankees, Cleveland's runner-up Indians and Los Angeles' surprising Angels—separated by only eight percentage points.

Arranged on either side were Charley Lau and La Clinton, two unlikely candidates who came up with outstanding individual performances Friday night while the men in the middle were battling for first place.

The third-place Angels knocked out the league-leading Yankees for the second night in a row, moving within eight points of first place with a victory. The Indians, beaten by Baltimore Orioles and Los Angeles, remained second, three points behind.

Lau, the Orioles' reserve catcher, tied a major league record by stroking four doubles. And Clinton, often a Boston benchwarmer, became the first American League pitcher since 1960 to triple and homer—before his hit for the cycle—single, double, second single knocked in the winning run in a 11-10, 15-inning marathon with Kansas City Athletics.

Standout pitching shows were out on at Minnesota, where the Twins' Camilo Pascual became the top winner in the league weeks. Are there enough games left in the season for him to become the first 30-game winner since Dizzy Dean posted a 30-win mark in 1934?

Drysdale, who has never won 20, was 16 victories after beating New York Mets 5-4 Friday night and is making a determined try at becoming only the second National League pitcher to win 30 since Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1917.

With 11 weeks remaining and the Dodgers 71 games from the end of the expanded NL schedule, big Don can expect about 20 more starts, at the maximum. To hit the magic mark, he must win 14. Figuring a couple of games in which he does not get the decision, and a loss or two, it'll be close.

FAIRLY BREAKS IT UP The swift, strong hurler spread out seven hits and got the benefit of Ron Fairly's ninth inning, tie-breaking homer in beating the Mets, pushing his record to 16-4 with 13 complete games in 21 starts.

The victory enabled the Dodgers to expand their National League lead to 1½ games over the second-place San Francisco Giants who lost to Philadelphia Phillies and rookie Don Hount 3-2.

Cal Koonce, 21-year-old Chicago Cubs right-hander, blanked Cincinnati Reds 1-0 on a one-hitter, St. Louis Cardinals beat Milwaukee Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Houston Colts 4-0.

At 25 Don Drysdale is by far the youngest major league pitcher in a race with time.

For Warren Spahn, Stan Musial and Early Wynn, all past the 40-year mark, the struggle with time involves the question of how many seasons may be left in their aging frames.

But for the full Los Angeles Dodgers right-hander the question centers around days and weeks. Are there enough games left in the season for him to be-

Palmer Packs Underwear Plus British Open Title

TROON, Scotland (CP-AP)—The Old Troon golf course Friday early round breaking the course record to write a glittering new chapter in the 102-year history of the British Open.

Palmer's total was two strokes under the previous record and the six-stroke margin by which he won over Australia's Kel Nagle who beat him in the open in 1960, equalled the mark for the winning margin.

The last man to walk away with the Open by such a margin was Walter Hagen of the United States. He whipped Johnny Farrell by six strokes in 1929.

Nagle finished 71-70-70-282, compared with Palmer's cards of 71-69-67-69-276.

Trailing behind the top two men were Phil Rodgers of the United States and England's Brian Huggett with 289, then lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand with 290.

American Sam Snead and Australia's four-time winner of the event, Peter Thomson, finished in a tie for sixth place with 305.

Palmer and Nagle were teamed on the last day, dragging a gallery of some 30,000 along with them.

Palmer started the day two strokes up on the Australian but Nagle birdied the first two holes and they were all square.

The tie seemed to be just the tonic Palmer needed and he clicked off six birdies in his morning round. Nagle played fine golf but his performance paled alongside Palmer's practically flawless rounds.

PLANES FLY OVERHEAD Screaming jet planes from the nearby Prestwick Airport, diesel trains and the undisciplined crowd of spectators did not faze Palmer, although he often asked the fans to be quiet, as did Nagle.

"I don't think I've ever experienced any crowds like this one today," Palmer said. "We had to wrestle with them all the way."

The crowds clearly expected Palmer to win from the start. The bookmakers did, too. They established him a 2-to-1 favorite, cut him to even money after two rounds and wouldn't even take a bet on him before the final round started.

The odds were quoted even though Palmer started with an aching back. He wore winter underwear to keep his back warm.

Coast Diver Wins Berth On Candian B.E.G. Team

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tom Dinsley, 21, of Vancouver, Friday officially clinched the Canadian diving title and a trip to Perth, Australia, in November for the British Empire Games.

He nipped defending champion Ernie Meissner, 25, of Kitchener, Ont. with three of the most difficult dives to win the three-metre springboard title.

The victory won't be official until today when three divers from Saskatoon—late because they weren't notified of a schedule change—get a chance to dive. They had no hope of catching the two leaders.

Judy Stewart, 18, of Toronto, won the women's three-metre springboard championship, an event dominated for years by Irene MacDonald now retired and coaching in Vancouver.

TEAMMATE SECOND Miss Stewart's teammate Sherry Waldron placed second and another Toronto swimmer, Liz McGee finished third.

Carol Ann Morror of Vancouver and Paulene McCullagh of Montreal was fifth.

Mary Stewart, 16, of Vancouver came within a second of her world record time as she paced the heats in the women's 110-yard butterfly. She swam the event in 1:10 flat.

Three individual Canadian records and two national relay marks were established in the heats of other events.

Dan Sherry, 16, of Hamilton, Ont., cracked the Canadian 440-yard freestyle mark with a time of 4:37.5, well under the previous record of 4:43.6 set by Sandy Gilchrist of Ocean Falls, B.C., who finished second Friday in 4:37.6.

LOWERS HIS RECORD Steve Rabinovitch of Montreal led the 220-yard breaststrokes in heats with 2:47.9, lower his own record of 2:52.3 set a year ago.

Aldy Menard of Vancouver lowered his mark in the 110-yard butterfly, winning in 1:04.1 compared with his 1:05.4 set last year.

The relay records fell in the men's and women's 440-yard club medleys, with the Ocean Falls Swim Club leading the men's in 4:34.1 and Vancouver's Dolphin Swim Club a team pace the women in 5:11.6.

The previous marks were 4:46.1 set by Vancouver ASC in the men's in 1958 and 5:20.9 set by the Dolphin Club in the women's event last year.

Sara Barber of Brantford, Ont., 21, led the 110-yard backstroke with a time of 1:14.6, 7-10 seconds off the Canadian record she set in June.

GOLFING TIP

PROPER HAND ACTION

Proper hand action is a must for a solid swing.

The right hand is the powerful hand which supplies most of the distance in all shots. This power and distance is wasted unless it is accompanied by the guiding of the left hand. The left hand must guide the swing.

You must always work to prevent having the power hand (the right) overpower the guiding hand (the left). This will ruin the swing. Blend the two hands together and you have perfection.

You can always improve your golf.

US Agrees To Aid McGill Space Research Project

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States Army has agreed to help finance McGill University's high-altitude research project, using huge U.S. Navy gun barrels to fire special instrumented projectiles into the upper atmosphere.

An army spokesman said the operation to get the two 142-ton naval gun barrels to Barbados in the West Indies where the project is to be located, started Thursday at Hampton Roads, Va., about 175 miles south of Washington.

Employing a specially constructed, naval flat-top vessel, the two 16-inch gun tubes, each about 75 feet long, were being hoisted aboard the vessel by huge naval and army cranes. Dubbed project Harp — high-altitude research project — the McGill experiment so far has proven that projectiles can be fired into the upper atmosphere

Doctors Warn On New Drug

CHICAGO (AP) — Two doctors warned Friday that there is a black market in a powerful drug that can make people act as though they were insane. Dr. Sidney Cohen and Keith S. Dittman, writing in the journal of the American Medical Association, called the recent appearance of the drug in underworld traffic "an alarming development."

The code name of the drug is LSD-25. The chemical name is lysergic acid diethylamide. Some persons who use marijuana also take LSD, they said and hold "LSD parties."

Opening lead—ten of spades.

The hand occurred in a duplicate pair game. It is of interest chiefly because South wound up making twelve tricks, whereas other North-South pairs made at most only eleven tricks. The extra trick, so important in many forms of duplicate play, came as the result of an unusual squeeze situation.

West led the ten of spades. South naturally feared that the lead was a singleton, so he won it in his hand with the queen, played a heart to the ace, and returned the jack. Declarer was trying to reduce the possibility of one or more spade ruffs which might defeat the contract.

West took the king of hearts and returned the three of spades. Of course, West could have cashed the ace of clubs instead of returning a spade, but if he had, South would have made only eleven tricks and we would have had no story. Declarer took the spade with the jack and played three rounds of trumps, discarding three clubs from dummy. After he then led a spade to the king, this became the position:

Declarer now cashed the ace of spades and discarded a club. West was hard pressed for a discard and, in fact, could do nothing to prevent South from winning the rest of the tricks.

He could not afford to discard a diamond because declarer would cash the A-K of diamonds to establish the jack as a trick. Nor could West spare a club because declarer would then trump the ten of clubs, felling the ace, and dummy would win the last three tricks. West was caught in a criss-cross squeeze.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

SUNDAY should prove a highly pleasant day, with family matters, social interests and outdoor pursuits highly favored. Just one admonition: try to conquer a tendency toward over-sensitiveness, which could cause needless heartache and, probably, misunderstandings which should not occur.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead is one in which, on many occasions, you may find your individual plans and hopes subordinated to the greater pressures of world affairs or political events. Such situations may be irksome as they occur, but if you can learn to adjust to these outside influences, you will find that the rewards are great—especially where personality growth and the accumulation of useful knowledge are concerned.

In your chosen occupation, keep plugging and make a fetish of personal efficiency—beginning right now. Recognition for your efforts is a strong possibility in September and/or November. Incidentally, those two months are generally good for all Cancerians, favoring, as they do, financial matters, creative work and romance. Avoid extravagance in August and October.

A child born on this day will be amiable and optimistic, but may have to curb a tendency toward lethargy.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

Monday should be an excellent period on all fronts. This will be a day in which to get started early to accomplish in a big way. Intuition and mental ability should be at a peak and you should find business associates and co-workers in a highly co-operative mood.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, the period immediately ahead should find you keyed to high purpose, mentally alert and abounding in constructive ideas—especially where business and financial matters are concerned. However, you will have to guard against those who may advise risky speculation as a means of carrying out your plans. Rely on established methods of getting things done. This will be especially important in August and October.

Advice from business associates is apt to be dependable in September and November, and the co-operation of influential persons should lead not only to the successful culmination of your plans and financial betterment but to increased prestige and popularity.

Along personal lines: Best periods for romance, September and November; for travel, late September and next January. A child born on this day will be benevolent, easy-going and extremely conscientious in all dealings.

Banks' Lending Freedom Gets An Increased Support

OTTAWA (CP)—Support for freedom in chartered bank lending rates is piling up in the evidence submitted to the royal commission on banking and finance.

For years the banks have been under a statutory limit of six per cent in annual interest on loans. The pinch is felt mainly in tight money conditions.

The Investment Dealers' Association of Canada, in a two-day appearance that ended Thursday, noted that in such periods—like the present one—the banks are prevented from using "prices" as a deterrent to undesirable loan expansion. Thus the banks had to resort to a form of credit rationing "with the attendant dangers of discrimination as between different classes of borrowers," the IDAC said.

GAINS ADVANTAGE
In addition, the so-called near banks—such as trust and insurance companies, credit unions and finance companies—can use higher interest earnings to pay bigger rates on deposits, and thus gain an advantage over the chartered banks.

Several other organizations appearing before the royal commission since it began hearings last March have expressed approximately the same view. Few, if any, submissions have suggested that the six-per-cent limit be retained.

The last royal commission on finance—the Macmillan study in 1953—issued a majority recommendation that the limit be removed entirely. It then was seven per cent.

But the government of the day not only rejected the Macmillan report in that respect, but it reduced the bank interest rate to six per cent. D. Bruce Shaw of A. E. Ames and Company, Limited Toronto, one of the IDAC witnesses, said the association feels that the present limit is "an undue restriction on freedom of contract."

Noting what happened to the Macmillan report recommendation, commissioner W. Thomas Brown of Vancouver commented with a smile:

"Perhaps the bankers would prefer that we do not make a recommendation in case it is reduced to five per cent."

Mast, Rigging Identical To 1958 Victory

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The yacht Columbia will boat the same mast and bar rigging she carried to an America's Cup victory in 1958 when the 66-foot sloop resumes trial racing Tuesday.

The mast and rigging were unloaded Tuesday at the Newport shipyard here where the Columbia is berthed. They were brought out of storage at Marmonck, N.Y., when the Columbia broke her mast in a trial race with Nefertiti Monday.

Columbia successfully defended the 11-year old cup for the United States four years ago, beating a challenge from the British yacht Sceptre.

France Marks July 14

PARIS (AP)—France today celebrated Bastille Day with the country at peace for the first time in 22 years.

President de Gaulle—wearing his brigadier-general's uniform—rode to the Champs des Elysees, jammed with thousands of people, to mark the occasion.

De Gaulle started the ceremonies by placing a wreath at the tomb of France's unknown soldier.

Then, in commemoration of the storming of the Bastille which marked the French Revolution 173 years ago, the two-hour parade of military might and celebrations began.

Three Mystere jet fighters trailing red, white and blue smoke, and 38 helicopters flew over the avenue. Much of the aerial program had to be cancelled because of the bad weather.

It was the first time that the Spahis, Moslem troops from Algeria, did not take part in the celebration. With independence won, those units no longer are part of the French army.

Bastille Day is a traditional day of amnesty, and there was speculation de Gaulle might announce commutation of the death sentence of former Gen. Edmond Jouhaud.

Jouhaud, condemned for his part in the abortive generals' revolt in Algiers in 1961 and for being No. 2 man in the terrorist Secret Army, was sentenced to death in April.

NEW PREFERENCES.
HARRISON HOT SPRINGS, B.C. (CP)—"Glamor jobs" are robbing the legal profession of bright young men and women, says lawyer Paul Ashley of Seattle. He told the law society of B.C. that instead of entering law school such young people are becoming astronauts, physicists and jet pilots.

Mac Rocks Political Scene By Quick Cabinet Shuffle

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Macmillan rocked the British political world Friday night with the most sweeping cabinet shuffle since the end of the Second World War.

Fighting to restore his party's prestige and voter appeal after a series of sharp by-election setbacks, Macmillan dropped seven senior cabinet ministers who have been key figures in Conservative party administrations for years.

To replace them, he reached into the party's erstwhile "second string" for younger men, the average age of the new cabinet is 50—in an apparent bid to give his government a new image of energy, drive and vigor. The old cabinet averaged 55 years.

Among the ministerial heads that rolled in the ruthless shakeup was Selwyn Lloyd, 57, Macmillan's secretary of state for the exchequer—secretary and frequent insider's choice as a future prime minister. Others dropped were Defence Minister Harold Watkinson, 52; Lord Chancellor Viscount Kilmer, 62; Education Minister David Eccles, 58; Dr. Charles

Hill, 58, housing and local government minister; John Maclean, 56, secretary of state for Scotland, and Lord Milles, 72, minister without portfolio.

PICKS MAUDLING
To replace Lloyd, Macmillan picked Reginald Maudling, 45, former colonial secretary and an expert on European Common Market problems.

Into the defence ministry went Peter Thorneycroft, 52, former minister of aviation, and to the education post, Sir Edward Boyle, 38, former financial secretary to the treasury. Chancellor Viscount Kilmer, the chief judicial official—was replaced by former Attorney-General Sir Reginald Manningham-Buller, 56, and Sir Keith Joseph, 44, became the new housing minister. William Deedes, 48, was appointed new minister without portfolio, and Michael Noble, 48, replaced Macmillan as secretary of state for Scotland.

In addition to the wholesale changes, Macmillan also redistributed some cabinet posts and created new ones. In recognition of the fast-diminishing British colonial empire, he named 54-year-old Duncan Sandys, former Commonwealth relations secretary, as Britain's first Commonwealth and colonial secretary, thus combining two formerly separate posts.

He also created the position of secretary of state and deputy prime minister to upgrade Home Secretary R. A. Butler, 59, long the unofficial second man in the government.

BROOKS GETS POST
As home secretary, to replace Butler, Macmillan picked Henry Brooke, 59, former chief aide to Lloyd in the treasury.

Opposition Leader Hugh Gaitskell called on the government to resign and hold a general election.

"This is a political massacre, which can only be interpreted as a gigantic admission of failure," he said Friday night. "Instead of getting rid of his colleagues, the prime minister should resign and let the people elect a new government."

Liberal Party Leader Jo Grimond also called for a general election and declared: "After 12 years in office, it is too late for the Tories to try and put a new face on their administration."

Macmillan's Conservative have a mandate to serve until the fall of 1964.

Earth-Bound Solar Rays Spotted by Satellite Team

OTTAWA (CP)—On Sept. 30, 1961, the American satellites Explorer XII and Juno I recorded sudden and vast increase of earth-bound solar cosmic rays.

United States space scientists could not account for the upsurge, thousands of times more intense than normal cosmic ray bombardment.

On Nov. 12, 1961, the satellite Discoverer 17, a practice space capsule which the U.S. put into orbit and later retrieved, was found to be seriously contaminated with radioactivity resulting from solar cosmic ray bombardment.

In the meantime, physicists of Canada's Defence Research board advanced a theory that the earth's motion in the sun-earth atmosphere creates a shock wave 48,000 to 60,000 miles beyond the earth, much as a supersonic plane creates a sonic boom.

They also concluded that the shock wave of a plasma cloud given off by the sun would collide with the earth's shock wave, resulting in an acceleration of solar cosmic rays.

The theory developed by Drs. George Reid, 32, and Ian Axford, 29, and the observations made by the two satellites came together at the April meeting this year of the American Geophysical Union in Washington. They fitted perfectly.

DANGERS ASTRONAUTS
Dr. Irvine Paghis, head of the radio physics laboratory where the Scottish-born Dr. Reid and New Zealand-born Dr. Axford worked out their theory, said solar cosmic ray events present a potential radioactive hazard to space travellers—even to men now making earth orbits.

Dr. Paghis said by that time an astronaut is ready for a moon trip it may be possible to know exactly how to avoid the rays.

There is one hitch. The rays usually follow solar flares, enormous tongues of fiery gas which flick out from the sun's surface and which can be observed from earth. But they don't always follow a large solar flare, and so far scientists don't know why.

Solar activity runs in 11-year cycles. The next most active period for the sun will be 1967-71, just about the time when attempts will be made to put a man on the moon.

Dr. Paghis said by that time an astronaut is ready for a moon trip it may be possible to know exactly how to avoid the rays.

Puzzling Shuffling Move On Cabinet Faces Dief

OTTAWA (CP)—Defeat of five ministers in the June 18 election confronts Prime Minister Diefenbaker with one of his most puzzling cabinet reconstruction problems since he took office five years ago.

Mr. Diefenbaker has given no hint as to when he might name successors to Solicitor-General Brown from Newfoundland, Works Minister Walker from Ontario and Postmaster-General William Hamilton, Mines Minister Flynn and Secretary of State Dorion from Quebec.

Mr. Dorion has already resigned and Transport Minister Blaker has taken on the secretary of state duties on an acting basis. The other four ministers are expected to resign formally before long.

Political circles in Ottawa seem to share Mr. Diefenbaker's view that there is no immediate urgency about the appointments since there has been comparatively little speculation—usually rife whenever there are cabinet vacancies—about possible choices.

NO CLUE GIVEN
There has been no clue as to whether Mr. Diefenbaker will simply appoint men to the vacancies or whether other cabinet shifts will be involved as well. Some sources speculate that the 24-member cabinet might be reduced to 23 by combining the secretary of state and solicitor-general portfolios, or by assigning the solicitor-general's duties to the justice minister, now held by Hon. David Fulton.

An election campaign suggestion by the prime minister that he might create an air ministry has not flourished prominently in speculation.

All provinces are represented in the present cabinet. Ontario has seven ministers, Quebec six, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta two each. British Columbia two, the others one. Saskatchewan's two includes the prime minister, often not reckoned in calculating the regional breakdown. Quebec's six includes five French-Canadians, although two of them are of English descent.

Mr. Flynn and Defence Production Minister O'Hurley—have Irish names. The other, Mr. Hamilton, has a British family background, in line with long custom on Quebec's cabinet representation.

SELECTION LIMITED
If Mr. Diefenbaker decides to maintain Quebec cabinet membership at six, he has a limited selection for the three vacancies since the province elected only 14 Conservatives June 18 against 50 in 1958. The only one with an English family background is Howard Gaffney, 33, member for Brome-Missisquoi.

Names which have figured in speculation as possible French-speaking ministers from Quebec include J. Alfred Desjardins, Matadeun-Matano, Paul Martheau, Pontine, Tasse, Tremblay, Delandrieux, and Georges V. a laide-MacSto, Marie.

One suggestion is that Mr. Diefenbaker might go outside Quebec for a French-speaking minister by naming Marcel Lambert, MP for Edmonton West and parliamentary secretary to Revenue Minister Nowlan in the last Parliament.

In Newfoundland, barring a turnover in a recount in Mr. Brown's St. John's West seat, the Conservatives have only one member—30-year-old John McGrath.

Of Ontario's seven ministers, five come from the Hamilton-Toronto-Oshawa area and the others from the southwestern Ontario ridings of Perth and London.

There have been pressures for appointment of a minister from the present cabinet. Ontario Eastern Ontario which has seven ministers, Quebec six, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta two each. British Columbia two, the others one. Saskatchewan's two includes the prime minister, often not reckoned in

Medical Ethics With Religion Given By Primate

LONDON (Reuters)—William Cardinal Godfrey, Archbishop of Westminster, told Roman Catholic doctors here today of the "basic reasons" on which all Catholic teaching on medical ethics rests.

Addressing the inaugural meeting of the 10th International Congress of Catholic Doctors, he listed the dignity of the human soul, and body, man's right to retain "the integrity of his person," his right to privacy in matters of mental and bodily health as long as his condition is not detrimental to the community and the overriding principle of "God's sovereignty over life and death."

"These principles explain the attitude of the church regarding any unlawful state interference in promoting or allowing certain operations offending against human dignity."

He cited euthanasia (mercy killing), abortion, sterilization of the unfit, direct destruction of the living foetus, whereby man seeks to supplant the sovereignty of the author of life.

"Catholic doctors, if they are to be true servants of God, will never stoop to the defilement of their profession by practices that are opposed to those eternal moral principles which no reason of mere expediency can ever destroy," he said.

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Defending champion Prince George Mares will be among at least seven teams competing in the third annual Unger Memorial Invitational softball tournament here next weekend.

Wonder Boy Sol Estes 'Bankrupt'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes, 37, the "boy wonder" who paralyzed fertilizer tanks, grain storage and cotton allotments into a multi-million dollar empire, was declared bankrupt Federal District Judge R. Ewing Thomason.

Estes' lawyer, John Coffey, said he would appeal at once. Earlier in the day the Pecos, Tex., promoter, pleaded innocent to federal charges that he and three associates had defrauded finance companies out of approximately $22,000,000 by obtaining loans on anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks which the government says never existed.

Estes was surprised when his three associates pleaded guilty to five of the 29 counts. The three were ordered to report to a probation officer who will make recommendations to Judge Thomason before sentencing, at a date not set.

Two New Polio Cases Recorded
OTTAWA (CP)—There were two new cases of polio reported in Canada during the week ended July 7, the health department said today.

The cases, both in Quebec, bring the total this year to 28, less than half the 58 reported up to the same date last year and only a fraction of the 250 reported in the same 1960 period.

The report, compiled from telegraphic reports from the provinces and territories, showed one death. This occurred in Manitoba.

Of the cases reported to July 7, 17 were in Quebec, five in Ontario three in Alberta and one each in New Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

FLEET FILLY
VANCOUVER (CP)—Moonie, four-year-old filly, turned in one of the fastest times for the six furlongs this season in a $975 claiming race at Exhibition Park Monday. Moonie, a 30-1 shot, was clocked in 1:11 4-5 a better time than many horses have shown in higher bracket races this season.
